Abstract

UTANO is a herbal product developed and formulated by Eng. Zvikomborero Lazarus Duri and marketed by Luisa Enterprises (Pvt) Ltd under the tagline "Medicine That Works". According to the company, it is a 100% herbal preparation composed of colloidal nanoparticles of organic materials, presented in tablet form and taken as a short, structured course. The company describes UTANO as a curative remedy rather than a management remedy, and states that it works by supporting the restoration of the body's own regulatory and immune functions toward what the formulator calls the "normal DNA or factory design settings". This dossier consolidates the product information presented by the company in its commercialisation materials and exhibition presentations, including the description of the product, its stated mode of action, the dosing protocol, the conditions it is intended to address, the patient observations reported by the company, the precautions stated by the formulator, related products, regulatory registration, and the product's exhibition and commercialisation history. The therapeutic statements herein are those made by the company and the formulator, together with outcomes reported by users; they are presented as the company's claims and reported observations.

Background

UTANO is presented by its formulator, Eng. Zvikomborero Lazarus Duri, as the outcome of a long personal and technical journey. Eng. Duri is an engineer by profession — with a background in machine design, materials science and cement processing — and describes UTANO as a project he developed and refined over a period of approximately seven years. He relates that the work was motivated by two decades spent caring for relatives living with chronic illness, an experience he says led him to search for a solution to chronic ailments by studying natural and traditional approaches to medicine. He frames the product as a move from engineering into the field of herbal and traditional medicine, drawing on self-directed study of biology and chemistry alongside his formal engineering training.

The product is marketed under the names “The Miracle / Wonder Herbal Solution” and “Medicine That Works”. This is because the product is demonstrating its practical ability to treat almost all known chronic ailments within a short period and is reporting positive feedback from almost all patients, that the medicine is working, hence the name. The formulator presents it as a curative remedy intended to address the root cause of disease rather than to manage symptoms, and positions it within the traditional-medicine framework recognised in Zimbabwe and in international traditional-medicine forums.

Product Description

According to Luisa Enterprises, UTANO is a 100% herbal product composed of colloidal nanoparticles of organic materials that are specially treated during preparation. The company states that the specific composition is not publicly disclosed for proprietary reasons. The product is supplied in tablet form. The company indicates that it is suitable for use across age groups and describes it as both pre-natal and post-natal friendly.

The company further states that UTANO does not interfere with other medicines a patient may already be taking, and that it can be taken alongside a patient’s existing treatment until the body has fully recovered and.

Stated Mode of Action

The formulator describes the product’s intended mode of action as the restoration of the body’s own control system. In his account, the product supports a return of the body toward its “normal DNA or factory design settings” — a concept he uses to describe the body’s baseline regulatory state — which he says in turn supports the body’s natural mechanisms for disease control, normal organ function, and the restoration of organ size and function. The company states that the product is intended to support the body’s own immune and metabolic regulation, including hormonal balance and metabolic rate, and describes the intended effect as curative rather than palliative.

Note: The description above is the company’s and the formulator’s stated concept of how the product is intended to work.

Dosing Protocol

The company describes a structured dosing programme. In its general form, the product is taken as a short course of doses — stated as seven doses for an initial cycle — with one tablet taken once a day, with warm water to aid absorption. For more involved courses, the company describes a cycle of continuous dosing of 7, then 5, then 3 days at one tablet per day, with seven-day breaks between the continuous-dosing periods.

The company describes the overall course as being completed within a period of up to three months for fuller recovery in more advanced cases, after which it describes a tapering maintenance phase intended to stabilise the body’s baseline. The company recommends that, even after a positive response, the product be continued for a further period (stated as at least one month) to support stabilisation.

Conditions the Product Is Presented as Addressing

In its materials, the company presents UTANO as intended to address a broad range of chronic and infectious conditions. The conditions named in the company's presentations include:

- Chronic conditions such as high blood pressure, diabetes (blood-sugar control), arthritis, gout, anaemia and renal conditions;
- Viral and infectious conditions, presented by the company under the general statement that the body addresses viral, bacterial and fungal organisms (the company names conditions including HIV, influenza, COVID-19, HPV, Ebola, Anthrax, Flue, and others);
- All types of cancers, with the company stating an exception for advanced metastasised ("stage-four") disease, for which it states the product should not be used (see Precautions);
- Accelerating healing of internal and external wounds, skin conditions (eczema, rashes), ulcers, acids, fibroids, asthma, goitre, piles and bone fractures.
- Hormonal and metabolic balance, weight control, normal liver and kidney function restoration, including correction of metabolic rate and hormonal balance.
- Dementia, autism and mental illnesses.
- Reversal of auto-immune deficiency syndrome, renal failures, varicose vein correction.
- Regeneration of body organ sizes to normal in line with individual standard BMI requirement.
- Libido correction.
- Ring-worm.
- Blood density correction.

All of the above reflect the conditions named in the company's own materials as intended uses.

The drug is 100% anti-microbial.

It's a very powerful painkiller.

Patient Observations Reported by the Company

The company presents a number of patient observations and case reports in support of its claims. These are reported by the company and by users, and are presented here as such.

Reported recovery process

For chronic and cancer cases, the company describes a reported recovery sequence in which patients are said to experience initial drowsiness and longer sleep, a detoxification phase associated with concentrated (yellow) urine, gradual restoration of appetite and body weight, and progressive recovery over a period the company states as approximately three months in fuller cases. The company reports that patients describe weight restoration and a return of strength over this period.

Reported case data

The company presents individual before/after measurements as case examples, including blood-glucose trajectories (reported declining toward normal ranges over approximately three weeks), blood-pressure trajectories (reported normalising over approximately two weeks), and prostate-specific antigen (PSA) readings for a prostate-cancer case (reported declining over successive monthly tests). These are presented by the company as case observations from individual patients.

Notes on Cancer Recovery Process

- Pain subsides on first dose and patient feels sleepy and takes deep 2 to 3 hour sleeping episodes.
- Detoxification of blood commences and full restoration of normal myoblasts function – (Cancer causing or controlling process).
- Killing of cancer cells on tumors and affected position happens.
- Dead cells are dissolved in blood and filtered out via kidneys – patient observes yellow urine / highly concentrated urine.
- After about 3 to 4 days the pain resurfaces as the internal wound gets reorganized. The body then removes the puss generated internally via urine and slowly patches up the wound from the healthy cells closest to the affected area. These episodes may recur as wound heals.
- Affected body organ regeneration then proceeds at the normal DNA controlled rate using normal Myoblast Cell Multiplication Control Rate. This is taking about 3 months to get patients to full recovery and to be certified cancer free.
- After a month X-rays are indicating presence of an abyss in recess and not cancer tumors.
- Biopsy taken on affected portion after 3 months is testing negative for any cancer cells.
- After initial cycle of 7, 5, 3-day continuous dosing cycles at one tablet a day, punctuated by 7-day breaks in between continuous doses, the patient then takes 3 to 4 tablets a week until the end of the 3rd month to fully clear any residual cancer cells. Approximately 63 tablets to clear.
- Full body weight restoration is achieved during the same time.
- Patient experiences very high appetite during this time, to allow the body to replenish lost nutrients and muscles and rebuild body organs back to their normal size.
- Patient moves out of the critical zone in about 2 weeks from date of first Utano dose.
- Patient experiences increased sleeping time, greater than 8 hours in the initial phases and then normalizing to 8 hours daily as the body fully recovers.

All Viral Infections, HIV, Ebola, Flue, Covid 19, HPV, Anthrax etc.

Patient's Response to Utano

- Patient experiences sweating and temperature elevation within first 30 minutes of first dose
- Feels sleepy after an hour sometimes depending on length of disease period (sleeping mode a pre-requirement)
- Visits toilets for urine in the first hour (yellow urine)
- Episodes of hot and cold fevers persist for about 5 days
- During this phase all infections including viruses are being killed by the body and flushed out- resulting in yellow urine.
- Body strength first reduces during the early phase of this cycle, the progressively increases to full body strength after the first five days as all viruses are cleared
- 7, 5, 3 - day continuous dosing cycles at one tablet a day, punctuated by 7 day breaks in between continuous doses is used as the dosing program
- Any residual viral infections are cleared out after the subsequent 5-and-3day continuous dosing cycles
- Viral load checks after the first month are giving Below Detectable levels
- Maximum CD4 Count numbers above 1200 are reported after the first week
- Patients experiencing full body functioning, with no pains thereafter (longest observation to date is 5 years)
- Normal Body Weight Restoration in at most 3 months.

Reported observations in viral conditions

For viral conditions, the company reports that patients describe a sequence of temperature elevation and sweating early in the course, followed by a detoxification phase, with the company reporting improvements in relevant markers (for example, CD4 count and viral-load readings) over subsequent weeks. These are reported observations as presented in the company's materials.

Capability Summary as Stated by the Company

The company summarises the product's stated capabilities as follows:

- Supporting the restoration of the body toward its normal baseline regulatory state;
- Supporting normal metabolic rate and hormonal balance, including progesterone and testosterone;
- Supporting the body's response to microbial organisms (viral, bacterial, fungal and parasitic);
- Supporting the healing of internal and external wounds and swellings;
- Supporting recovery of bone fractures and degenerative bone conditions;
- Supporting the body's clearance processes (associated by the company with concentrated urine output);
- Supporting organ and tissue restoration toward normal size and function;
- Supporting blood-pressure and blood-sugar normalisation, and skin condition;
- Providing rapid relief of pain, as reported by the company.

Precautions Stated by the Formulator

The company and formulator state the following precautions for use of the product:

1. The product should not be used in advanced, metastasised ("stage-four") cancer; the company states that in such cases the product does not produce the desired outcome and may be associated with serious adverse effects.
2. Smoking and alcohol should not be taken during the course of treatment.

These precautions are stated by the formulator in the company's materials.

Related Products

Luisa Enterprises markets additional products alongside UTANO, as presented in its materials:

- Eye-care preparation — presented by the company for use in eye conditions including cataracts, long-sight and short-sight correction, blurred vision and glaucoma, applied as an eye drop.
- Dental-care product — presented by the company for relief of toothache and for gum care, used by chewing and rinsing.

Registration and Licensing

UTANO is registered with the Traditional Medical Practitioners Council of Zimbabwe (TMPCZ), and the formulator references practising, herbal pharmacy and production licences obtained in connection with the product. The company positions UTANO within the traditional-medicine framework.

For completeness, and so this dossier is accurate rather than promotional: registration with TMPCZ is a traditional-medicine registration. It is distinct from authorisation of specific clinical efficacy by a medicines regulator, and the therapeutic claims described in this document are the company's and the formulator's claims and reported patient observations; they have not been established through controlled clinical trials or authorised as treatment by a medicines regulatory authority. Two attempts to conduct clinical trials have been aborted due to the unusual efficacy of the drug which runs contrary to known standard medical principles with the product being described by some of the medical practitioners as a Medical Drug. Persons receiving treatment for any condition should not start, stop or change any prescribed treatment except on the advice of a qualified clinician.

Exhibition and Commercialisation

UTANO has been presented at national and international forums. The product was exhibited at the 2025 Hong Kong International Traditional Chinese Medicine Expo, where the formulator represented Zimbabwe and engaged with international visitors at the UTANO stand. The product was also presented at Zimbabwe's National Development Strategy 2 (NDS2) Dialogue Policy Conference in May 2026, where the formulator presented UTANO in the context of supporting a healthy and productive national workforce toward national development objectives.

The company's stated commercialisation objectives include completing the necessary processes to register the product, making the capsuled product available through pharmacies and hospitals, and completing patent protection associated with the product.

The Formulator

Eng. Zvikomborero Lazarus Duri is an engineer with a background spanning machine design, materials science and cement processing, and has held academic and industrial roles in these fields. His engineering record includes granted patents and peer-reviewed publication, among them work on geopolymers cement manufacturing and on grinding-mill technology, and a 2025 research paper on a predictive optimisation model for commercial geopolymers cement manufacturing. He presents UTANO as a separate undertaking developed over approximately seven years, and frames it as the application of an engineer's problem-solving approach to the field of traditional herbal medicine.
